

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

LAWS OF LAWN TENNIS.

THE COURT.

1. The Court is 78 feet long and 27 feet wide. It is divided across the middle by a net, the ends of which are attached to two posts, A and B, standing 3 feet outside of the court on either side.

The height of the net is 3 feet 6 inches at the posts, and 3 feet in the middle. At each end of the court, parallel with the net, and 39 feet from it, are drawn the base lines DE and FG, the ends of which are connected by the side lines DF and EG. Halfway between the side lines, and parallel with them, is drawn the half court line I H, dividing the space on each side of the net into two equal parts, the right and left courts. On each side of the net, at a distance of 21 feet from it, and parallel with it, are drawn the service lines K L and M N.

THE BALLS.

2. The Balls shall measure not less than $2\frac{1}{4}$ inches, nor more than $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches in diameter; and shall weigh not less than $1\frac{1}{4}$ ounces, nor more than 2 ounces.*

THE GAME.

3. The choice of sides, and the right to serve in the first game, shall be decided by toss; provided that, if the winner of the toss choose the right to serve, the other player shall have choice of sides, and vice versa, or the winner of the toss may insist upon a choice by his opponent. If one player choose the court, the other may elect not to serve.

4. The players shall stand on opposite sides of the net; the player who first delivers the ball shall be called the server, and the other the striker-out.

5. At the end of the first game the striker-out shall become server, and the server shall become striker-out; and so on alternately in all the subsequent games of the set, or series of sets.

*The Wright & Ditson "Championship" ball has been adopted by the Association, and is the only official ball to be used in all games played under these rules.

6. The Server shall serve with one foot on the ground immediately behind the base line; the other foot may be anywhere except touching the base line or the ground within the court. He shall deliver the service from the right to the left courts, alternately; beginning from the right.

7. The ball served must drop between the service line, half-court line, and side line of the court, diagonally opposite to that from which it was served.

8. It is a Fault if the server fail to strike the ball, or if the ball served drop in the net, or beyond the service line, or out of court, or in the wrong court; or if the server do not stand as directed by law 6.

9. A fault cannot be taken.

10. After a fault the server shall serve again from the same court from which he served that fault, unless it was a fault because he served from the wrong court.

11. A fault cannot be claimed after the next service is delivered.

12. The server shall not serve till the striker-out is ready. If the latter attempt to return the service, he shall be deemed ready.

13. A service or fault delivered when the striker-out is not ready counts for nothing.

14. The service shall not be volleyed, that is, taken, before it has touched the ground.

15. A ball is in play on leaving the server's racket, except as provided for in law 8.

16. It is a good return, although the ball touch the net; but a service, otherwise good, which touches the net shall count for nothing.

17. The server wins a stroke if the striker-out volley the service, or if he fail to return the service or the ball in play; or if he return the service or the ball in play so that it drops outside of his opponent's court; or if he otherwise lose a stroke, as provided by law 20.

18. The striker-out wins a stroke if the server serve two consecutive faults; or if he fail to return the ball in play; or if he return the ball in play so that it drops outside of his opponent's court; or if he otherwise lose a stroke as provided by law 20.

19. A ball falling on a line is regarded as falling in the court bounded by that line.

20. Either player loses a stroke if the ball touch him, or anything that he wears or carries, except his racket in the act of striking; or if he touch the ball with his racket more than once; or if he touch the net or any of its supports while the ball is in play; or if he volley the ball before it has passed the net.

21. In case a player is obstructed by any accident, not within his control, the ball shall be considered a "let." But where a permanent fixture of the court is the cause of the accident, the point shall be counted. The benches and chairs placed around the court shall be considered permanent fixtures. If, however, a ball in play strike a permanent fixture of the court (other than the net or posts) before it touches the ground, the point is lost; if after it has touched the ground, the point shall be counted.

22. On either player winning his first stroke, the score is called 15 for that player; on either player winning his second stroke, the score is called 30 for that player; on either player winning his third stroke, the score is called 40 for that player; and the fourth stroke won by either player is scored game for that player, except as below: If both players have won three strokes, the score is called deuce; and the next stroke won by either player is scored advantage for that player. If the same player win the next stroke, he wins the game; if he lose the next stroke, the score returns to deuce, and so on until one player wins the two strokes immediately following the score of deuce, when game is scored for that player.

23. The player who first wins six games wins the set; except as below: If both players win five games, the score is called games all; and the next game won by either player is scored advantage game for that player. If the same player win the next game, he wins the set; if he lose the next game, the score returns to games all; and so on, until either player wins the two games immediately following the score of games all, when he wins the set. But the committee having charge of any tournament may in their discretion modify this rule by the omission of advantage sets.

24. The players shall change sides at the end of every set; but the umpire, on appeal from either player before the toss for choice, shall direct the players to change sides at the end of the first, third, fifth, and every succeeding alternate game of each set; but if the appeal be made after the toss for choice, the umpire may only direct the players to change sides at the end of the first, third, fifth, and every succeeding alternate game of the odd, or deciding, set. If the players change courts in the alternate games throughout the match as above, they shall play in the first game of each set after the first in the courts in which they respectively did not play in the first game of the set immediately preceding.

25. When a series of sets is played, the player who served in the last game of one set shall be striker-out in the first game of the next.

26. In all contests the play shall be continuous from the first service till the match be concluded; provided, however, that between all sets after the second set either player is entitled to a rest, which shall not exceed seven minutes; and provided, further, that in case of an unavoidable accident, not within the control of the contestants, a cessation of play which shall not exceed two minutes may be allowed between points; but this proviso shall be strictly construed, and the privilege never granted for the purpose of allowing a player to recover his strength or wind. The umpire in his discretion may at any time postpone the match on account of darkness or condition of the ground or weather. In any case of postponement, the previous score shall hold good. Where the play has ceased for more than an hour, the player who at the cessation thereof was in the court first chosen shall have the choice of courts on the recommencement of play. He shall stay in the court he chooses for the remainder of the set. The last two sentences of this rule do not apply when the players change every alternate game as provided by rule 24.

27. If a player serve out of his turn, the umpire, as soon as the mistake is discovered, shall direct the player to serve who ought to have served. But all strokes scored before such discovery shall be counted. If a game shall have been completed before such discovery, then the service in the next alternate game shall be delivered by the player who did not serve out of his turn, and so on in regular rotation.

28. There shall be a referee for every tournament, whose name shall be stated in the circular announcing such tournament. He shall have general charge of the matches under the instructions and advice of the Managing Committee, with such power and authority as may be given him by these rules and by said committee. He shall notify the committee in case he intend to leave the grounds during the matches, and the committee shall appoint a substitute to act with like powers during his absence. There shall be an umpire for each match and as many linesmen as the players desire. The umpire may act as linesman also. The umpire shall have general charge of the match and shall decide upon and call lets and also decide whether the player took the ball on the first or second bounce. The umpire shall also decide any question of interpretation or construction of the rules that may arise. The decision of the umpire upon any question of fact, or where a discretion is allowed to him under these rules, shall be final. Any player, however, may protest against any interpretation or construction of the rules by the umpire, and appeal to the referee. The decision of the referee upon such appeal should be final.

The court shall be divided between the linesmen, and it shall be their only duty to decide each for his share of the court where the ball touched the ground, except, however, the linesmen for the base line, who shall also call foot faults. - The linesman's decision shall be final. If a linesman is unable to give a decision, because he did not see, or is uncertain of the fact, the umpire shall decide or direct the stroke to be played again.

29. The above laws shall apply to the three-handed and four-handed games, except as below:—

THE THREE-HANDED AND FOUR-HANDED GAMES.

30. For the three-handed and four-handed games the court shall be 36 feet in width; $4\frac{1}{2}$ feet inside the side lines, and parallel with them, are drawn the service side lines K M and L N. The service lines are not drawn beyond the point at which they meet the service side lines, as shown in the diagram

31. In the three-handed game, the single player shall serve in every alternate game.

32. In the four-handed game, the pair who have the right to serve in the first game shall decide which partner shall do so; and the opposing pair shall decide in like manner for the second game. The partner of the player who served in the first game shall serve in the third, and the partner of the player who served in the second game shall serve in the fourth, and the same order shall be maintained in all the subsequent games of the set.

33. At the beginning of the next set, either partner of the pair which struck out in the last game of the last set may serve; and the same privilege is given to their opponents in second game of the new set.

34. The players shall take the service alternately throughout the game; a player cannot receive a service delivered to his partner; and the order of service and striking out once established shall not be altered, nor shall the striker-out change courts to receive the service, till the end of the set.

35. It is a fault if the ball served do not drop between the service line, half-court line, and service side line of the court, diagonally opposite to that from which it was served.

36. It is a fault if the ball served do not drop as provided in law 35, or if it touch the server's partner or anything he wears or carries.

ODDS.

37. A Bisque is one point which can be taken by the receiver of the odds at any time in the set except as follows:—

(a) A bisque cannot be taken after a service is delivered.

(b) The server may not take a bisque after a fault, but the striker-out may do so.

38. One or more bisques may be given to increase or diminish other odds.

39. Half fifteen is one stroke given at the beginning of the second, fourth, and every subsequent alternate game of a set.

40. Fifteen is one stroke given at the beginning of every game of a set.

41. Half thirty is one stroke given at the beginning of the first game, two strokes given at the beginning of the second game, and so on alternately in all the subsequent games of the set.

42. Thirty is two strokes given at the beginning of every game of the set.

43. Half forty is two strokes given at the beginning of the first game, three strokes given at the beginning of the second game, and so on alternately in all the subsequent games of the set.

44. Forty is three strokes given at the beginning of every game of a set.

45. Half Court: the players may agree into which half court, right or left, the giver of the odds shall play; and the latter loses a stroke if the ball returned by him drop outside any of the lines which bound that half court.

46. Owed odds are where the giver of the odds starts behind scratch.

47. Owe half fifteen is one stroke owed at the beginning of the first, third, and every subsequent alternate game of a set.

48. Owe fifteen is one stroke owed at the beginning of every game of a set.

49. Owe half thirty is two strokes owed at the beginning of the first game, one stroke owed at the beginning of the second game, and so on alternately in all the subsequent games of the set.

50. Owe thirty is two strokes owed at the beginning of every game of a set.

51. Owe half forty is three strokes owed at the beginning of the first game, two strokes owed at the beginning of the second game, and so on alternately in all subsequent games of the set.

52. Owe forty is three strokes owed at the beginning of every game of a set.

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I.

NAME.

This organization shall be known as the "United States National Lawn Tennis Association."

ARTICLE II.

MEMBERS.

SECTION 1. There shall be two classes of members:—

1. Clubs.
2. Associations of Clubs.

SECT. 2. An association of clubs shall consist of five or more individual clubs, any one of which may, or may not, be itself a member of the National Association. But no club shall otherwise be a member of more than one association.

SECT. 3. Every such association shall represent either a stated section of the country, or a stated number of schools and colleges, and in each case its stated limits shall necessarily exclude to that extent the stated limits of every other association.

SECT. 4. Propositions for Membership.—Propositions for membership must be made in writing to the Executive Committee, hereinafter provided for, with the name and address of the applicant, and signed by the Secretary of the club or association making the proposal. Where the applicant is an association, the names and addresses of each of its members shall be given with the application, together with a statement of the limits that it desires to represent; and thereafter such association, if elected, shall notify the Secretary of the National Association of any changes in its membership immediately upon occurrence.

SECT. 5. The Executive Committee shall have full power to pass upon candidates for membership without a general election, except that no association shall be deemed a member whose limits shall conflict with those of other associations until its admittance be confirmed by a two-thirds' vote at the annual meeting of the National Association, or by the consent of the associations upon whose limits it encroaches. The admittance to membership of such an association necessarily decreases the limits of other associations to such an extent as shall preclude a conflict of limits.

SECT. 6. Dues, etc.—The annual dues to this Association, in the case of clubs, shall be seven dollars ($7), and, in the case of associations of clubs, shall be twenty-five dollars ($25), except that, where any association is composed of more than ten clubs, its annual dues shall, in addition, be ten dollars ($10) for every five clubs or fraction thereof members of it so additional. No club or association shall be allowed the privileges of a member until its first annual dues have been paid. All dues for the ensuing year shall be payable at the annual meeting.

SECT. 7. Limits of Payments, etc. — Any club or association which shall fail to have paid its annual dues at the expiration of one month after the annual meeting may be debarred from the privileges of a member by the Executive Committee, and, at their discretion, may be dropped from the roll.

SECT. 8. Resignations, etc. — Any member wishing to resign must do so in writing, addressed to the Secretary; and the resignation cannot be accepted until all dues are paid.

ARTICLE III.

EXPULSIONS, ETC.

The Executive Committee of this Association, hereinafter provided for, shall have the power to suspend or expel any member which may neglect or refuse a strict and honorable compliance with this Constitution, By-Laws, etc., or which shall, by scandalous conduct, bring reproach or disgrace upon the Association; or which shall, being itself an association, retain as one of its members any club objected to by notice in writing by the Executive Committee, subject to a right of the said member to appeal to the Association, at its next annual meeting, for reinstatement.

ARTICLE IV.

OFFICERS.

SECTION 1. The officers of this Association shall consist of a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer.

and an Executive Committee of nine members, including the President, the Vice-President, the Secretary, and the Treasurer, who shall be ex-officio members of the Committee. No person can be an officer who is not an active member of a club belonging either directly to this Association, or indirectly, as specified in Art. II., Sect. 2.

SECT. 2. Time and Mode of Election.—The election of officers shall be by ballot or roll call at the annual meeting in each year. They shall be voted for separately, and receive a majority of all votes cast to entitle them to an election; and they shall continue in office for one year, or until their successors shall be elected.

SECT. 3. Vacancies.—In case a vacancy should occur in any of the offices, the Executive Committee shall elect a member to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term.

SECT. 4. Duties of the President.—It shall be the duty of the President to preside at all meetings, to preserve order, to appoint all committees not otherwise provided for, and to see that the officers and committees perform their respective duties.

SECT. 5. The Vice-President.—The Vice-President shall assist the President in the performance of his duties, and shall exercise all the powers of the President in his absence.

SECT. 6. The Secretary.—The Secretary shall keep a roll of all the members, and from time to time amend and correct the same as circumstances may require. He shall notify new members of their election within two weeks thereafter, and shall give notice of all meetings at least two weeks in advance. He shall conduct all the correspondence of the Association, and keep copies of all letters in a book provided for that purpose. He shall keep the minutes of the proceedings of the Association, and a record of such matters of interest as may occur.

SECT. 7. The Treasurer.—The Treasurer shall keep, in a suitable book provided for that purpose, an account of all moneys received and paid. He shall liquidate all bills against the Association, and shall report in writing the state of the finances when required; and, at the annual meeting, he shall present a written report showing all the receipts and expenditures for the year.

SECT. 8. Executive Committee, etc.—It shall be the duty of the Executive Committee to see that the general provisions of the Constitution and By-Laws of this Association are complied with by members of the same; to hear and decide all questions submitted by members for decision, notice of hearing being given to any other member which may be affected by the question; to construe and enforce all the rules of the Association. All decisions of the Executive Committee shall be complied with forthwith; but an appeal therefrom may be taken by any member of the Association at its next annual meeting. The Executive Committee and the Secretary shall cause official notices, and such other matters of information as they shall deem of interest, to be published in a paper to be appointed annually by the Executive Committee the official bulletin of the Association. All members are to be given notice of said appointment, and thereafter are expected to take notice of official publications therein. The Executive Committee shall have the arrangement and management of any general tournament between the members of this Association.

Each member of the Executive Committee must represent a club of which he is an active member, said club belonging either directly to this Association, or indirectly as specified in Art. II., Sect. 2, and being, also, either a different club, or, if a member of an association, then a club of a different association from any club represented by any other member of the Committee. A majority shall constitute a quorum.

ARTICLE V.

MEETINGS, ETC.

SECTION 1. There shall be a stated annual meeting held, on a date to be fixed by the President, between the 1st and 15th of February in each year, at a place to be designated at the previous annual meeting, or by the President in the absence of other designation.

SECT. 2. Proxies, etc.—Members may be represented at meetings by delegates or proxies.

SECT. 3. Special Meetings, etc.—Special meetings may be called by the Executive Committee at any time, and shall be called by the Executive Committee at the request of any five members of the Association.

SECT. 4. At all meetings of the Association the representatives of eleven members shall constitute a quorum.

SECT. 5. Each member of the Association shall, at all meetings, be entitled to one vote if it be a member in Class 1, and it shall be entitled to two votes, and to one additional vote for every five clubs or fraction thereof members of it over ten if it be a member in Class 2, the vote or votes to be cast by its delegates or proxies.

Each delegate or proxy must be an active member of a club belonging either directly to this Association, or indirectly as specified in Art. II., Sect. 2, and present written credentials properly certified by the member he represents.

ARTICLE VI.

AMENDMENTS, ETC.

Amendments to this Constitution may be made at any annual meeting by a vote of at least two-thirds of all the votes cast. By-Laws may be amended at any annual or special meeting under the same provisions.

BY-LAWS.

ARTICLE I.

the tournament

CHAMPIONSHIP OF AMERICA FOR 1893.

The thirteenth annual tournament began on Tuesday, Aug. 22, 1893. One rarely sees a more pleasing sight than that presented at Newport on the first day of this annual tournament. The fresh, green lawn on which the dozen or more tennis courts, with their white nets and markings, are laid out, is occupied by ambitious contestants, some for the first time and others after several years of varied experience.

This year the appearance, if anything, was more than usually attractive. With the largest number of entries ever received, seventy-nine, the day started off very successfully. Of the fifteen matches played in the preliminary round, the one between A. W. Post and P. T. Wright attracted attention, because the former player, after winning the two sets, 6-3, 6-3, seemed to be unable to get through the third set, and only succeeded finally in doing so by a score of 12 to 10.

In the first round there were thirty-two matches. Over by the grand stand, on Court No. 5, F. H. Hovey was playing Quincy A. Shaw, Jr., two expert players, the first named a possible winner of the championship, and the latter the winner of the all-comers in 1889. Hovey's pace and accuracy in placing won him the victory by a score of 6-0, 7-5, 7-5.

On Wednesday morning Chace met Larned on the court directly in front of the Casino Theatre. The week before Chace had proved the better player at Narragansett, so opinion favored his winning. With two games against him in the first set, he started out and won six straight and the set, 6-2. This effort seemed to have tired him, however, for Larned took the next three sets quite easily, winning the match by a score of 2-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4. Over in another court at this same time Messrs. Hovey and Foote were at work, the younger player surprising his friends by winning the first set, 6-4. Hovey took the necessary three following, and the match, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2. The storm on Thursday interrupted play, but on Friday Hovey met E. L. Hall in the third round and won a very easy victory, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1.

The meeting between Hobart and Budlong attracted attention because Budlong had won the last time they met in the Essex tourney. Hobart's poor condition at Essex was shown by the ease with which he defeated Budlong at Newport, allowing him only six games in the three sets, 6-3, 6-1, 6-2. R. D. Wrean in his match with Marion Wright in this round came very near losing his opportunity to contest in the finals, for at the end of the fourth set it looked very much as though Wright would be the winner, but the present champion proved himself equal to the emergency in the fifth set and placed the match to his credit by a score of 6-2.

11-9, 4-6, 3-6, 6-4. While Wrenn was having his hard contest, Richard Stevens was having a very easy one with C. Tete, Jr., whom he defeated, 6-2, 6-0, 6-1. When the eight men who had survived the third round met Saturday to decide which would be contestants in the semi-finals, Wrenn vs. R. Stevens, S. T. Chase vs. Candler, Larned vs. Hobart, Hovey vs. V. G. Hall, Stevens, Hobart, Hovey and Chase would have been chosen for winners. Perhaps Wrenn's hard match of the Friday with Marion Wright had prepared him to meet the man who defeated him in the Longwood tournament, 2-6, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3. Anyhow, Wrenn showed his superiority in a four-set match played in quick time, 6-1, 6-2, 2-6, 6-2. The match of the day was that between Hobart and Larned in the grand stand court. Here was a fashionable assembly of Newport society ready to applaud and encourage its favorite. Mr. A. A. Pell occupied the umpire's high chair, and the occasion was honored by the presence of Mr. Jones (the Cavendish of whist), who sat with Referee Dwight at the side of the court. Mr. Jones has been so interested in the growth of tennis in England that his presence was appreciated. Hobart, remembering his defeat by Larned at Southampton, started in at once to make things safe. He won the first two sets, 6-3, 6-4, and had the third set three games love when Larned assumed that indifferent air for which he is noted, put pace on the balls, and coaxed his opponent to put the balls out of court or into the net now and then when the opportunity presented itself, placing the balls across court as only Larned can. He thus scored six games in quick succession and the third set, 6-3. A glance at the score shows that Larned won the set, 33 aces to 28. From Hobart's netted balls 14 aces went to Larned, while the former received only 7. Again, in the fourth set, Hobart's nets 17 to Larned's 11 was enough to give the set to the latter, 42 aces to 37, and 7 games to 5. When the fifth set began after the intermission of seven minutes, a change in the play was immediately evident. Hobart was more careful and won the first game to fifteen. The second game on Larned's service was won by Hobart "to love." The only deuce game in the set went to Hobart, and with it the deciding set, 6-2, 31 aces to 19, and the match, 6-3, 6-4, 3-6, 5-7, 6-2. S. T. Chase won over Duncan Candler, and so obtained a place in the semi-finals, while V. G. Hall put up an excellent game against Hovey.

On the reassembling of the players, Monday, for the semi-finals, a great surprise was in store. The match between Hobart and Hovey was the attraction and a larger crowd than usual had assembled to witness the play. Here were two players, one of whom had never been beaten by the other. They had already met four times during the season. Still, after the first set, the success of Hovey was never in doubt. The misty morning had its effects on the balls and turf, so that Hobart's base line strokes did not "come off," and Hovey, by his net play, soon had his opponent strictly on the defensive and won easily, 7-5, 6-0, 6-3. Wrenn's match with S. T. Chase was uninteresting after the first set, the score being 8-6, 6-1, 6-2.

So the tournament had come down to the finals, and F. H. Hovey was to meet R. D. Wrenn in the all-comers' match Tuesday.

Bad weather prevented play on Tuesday, but on Wednesday an interested audience occupied the seats of the grand stand and surrounded the court on which the match which would determine who should be the champion was to be played. F. H. Hovey and R. D. Wrenn met, and the greatest surprise of a tournament which had been full of surprises occurred. They had met before many times, and the former had an unbroken series of victories in these contests. Wrenn, realizing the importance of the match, and knowing Hovey's game, had mapped out a style of play to meet it. There was only one way to succeed, and that was to keep him away from the net, where Hovey recognizes no superior. A carefully lobbed ball to a corner of the base line would allow Wrenn to reach the net and skilfully smash the return to a short court side line and so win the important ace. In this way the match was won by the younger player, and as O. S. Campbell, who had won the title for three years, decided not to defend this year, R. D. Wrenn, was declared to be the champion.

A summary of the All-Comers' match is as follows :

DOUBLES AT CHICAGO.

At the annual meeting of the National Association held in February, 1893, it was—

Resolved, That the double championship tournament for the season of 1893 be held at Chicago, including the championship match between the winners of the tournament and the champions of 1892, provided that satisfactory arrangements can be made by the executive committee with the Chicago people and with the Newport Casino governors, who have given prizes for this championship match; and in case such satisfactory arrangements cannot be made, the executive committee is given full power in the premises to hold the double championship wherever they see fit.

Satisfactory arrangements were made with all parties concerned, and the tournament was held on the grounds of the St. George Cricket Club in Chicago on July 25, 1893, and following days. Sixteen pairs were represented in the drawing, coming from the East, the West, and the Pacific coast. The preliminary round brought together Taylor and Tobin of California and Mundy and Knickerbocker of Chicago. The former won easily, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1. Hobart and Hovey met the Wrenn brothers in this round and won, 6-4, 6-1, 6-3. Whitman and Hebard of the Hyde Park Country Club, Kansas City, were defeated by Scudder and Neely, after winning one set, 4-6, 6-3, 8-6, 6-4.

In the second round Hobart and Hovey met Taylor and Tobin of San Francisco. The match was looked meet Messrs. Campbell and Huntington, who were forward to with great interest to see how the men from the Pacific coast would compare with the men from the East. A fashionable body of spectators was seated about the court, while many faces familiar in the East were seen closely watching the contest. Whether the change from the cement courts, to which they were accustomed at home, to the turf courts of the St. George Club disarranged the play of Messrs. Taylor and Tobin or not we cannot say, but the game they put up was not what should be expected from so prominent a pair. Hobart and Hovey won without effort, surpassing in pace, accuracy, and good judgment. Score, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

C. B. and S. B. Neel, another pair from California, played a very interesting match in this round with McCormick and Herriek of Princeton University. Five sets were needed to decide the contest in favor of the Neels, who showed excellent team work, good pace, and, when necessary, careful lobbing. In the semi-finals Hobart and Hovey met the Neel brothers, and although they won three straight sets, it was not without the hardest kind of a battle, as the score shows, 11-9, 6-2, 7-5.

In the finals, Hobart and Hovey met J. S. Clark and S. T. Chase (the latter Western champion). A lack of team play by opponents allowed the Eastern team to win rather easily, 6-2, 6-1, 7-5. It was arranged that the winners of the tournament should meet Messrs. Campbell and Huntington, who were to defend their championship in Chicago instead of at Newport, as they had done for the past two years. On Saturday afternoon a large and enthusiastic audience assembled to witness the play. The champions of 1891 and 1892 used the same style of play that had been successful before, Campbell at the net and Huntington near the base line, where his ability as a lobber has been so often proved. Hobart and Hovey showed that their game was a superior one to any which the other pair had yet met, and won in four sets full of brilliant rallies, in 6-3, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, and so became the champion pair in doubles for the season of 1893.

The tournament was well handled by the Chicago committee, of which John A. Ryerson was the chairman, composed of the following persons: J. W. Brooks, B. F. Cummins, S. T. Chase, Samuel Dauchy, W. A. Havemeyer, Frederick Hellyer, L. V. LeMoyne, C. H. McCormick, C. A. Tinkham and William Waller.

The National Association was represented by a committee composed of Henry W. Slocum, Joseph T. Whittelsey, Valentine G. Hall and Victor Elting.

RANKING FOR 1893.

Following the plan adopted last year, the records of the different candidates for first honors have been sent to each one of the nine persons constituting the Executive Committee of the Association. The committee have named the following as belonging to the first ten, and have decided their relative standing to be:

- | | |
|------------------|--------------------|
| 1. R. D. Wrenn. | 6. E. L. Hall. |
| 2. C. Hobart. | 7. R. Stevens. |
| 3. F. H. Hovey. | 8. A. E. Foote. |
| 4. M. G. Chace. | 9. J. Howland. |
| 5. W. A. Larned. | 10. C. R. Budlong. |

First, by reason of his excellent showing at Newport, comes the champion, R. D. Wrenn. When Wrenn won the All-Comers, and with it the championship of the United States, he established his claim to this position. He had started the season well by beating Hobart at Tampa Bay and winning the Gulf Championship over A. E. Wright. At the Neighborhood he defeated both Chace and Larned. At Newcastle he met and defeated Chace, and also at Sorrento. He is a student at Harvard, and is prominent in base ball and foot ball.

Second place belongs to Clarence Hobart. At Magnolia Hobart beat Wrenn; at Baltimore he defeated Richard Stevens; at New Haven he won the New England Championship from E. L. Hall; at West Newton he defeated Hovey twice, Wrenn.

Chace, and Larned; at Tuxedo he won from Hovey, Larned, and E. L. Hall; at Saratoga from W. P. Knapp and Hovey; at Southampton from R. Stevens and John Howland, and at Newport from Larned and Budlong. He holds the Double Championship with F. H. Hovey, the Mixed Doubles with Miss Roosevelt, the New England Championship, the New York State Championship, and the Tuxedo Cup.

For third place, F. H. Hovey, who defeated Wrenn, Chace, and Larned at West Newton; Richard Stevens at Longwood; W. H. Taylor, Jr., the Pacific Coast champion, at Chicago, where he also won the World's Fair Championship; Hobart, E. L. Hall, V. G. Hall, A. E. Foote, and Q. A. Shaw, Jr., at Newport. Hobart and Hovey met in singles during the season five times. Of these Hobart won four times to Hovey's once. Hovey holds the Longwood Cup, and the Double Championship with Hobart.

Fourth place goes to Malcolm G. Chace of Brown, the Intercollegiate champion. Chace and Larned each won a match from the other, at West Newton. Chace by actual play and Larned by default. Chace beat Larned at Narragansett Pier, and Larned turned the tables on him at Newport. At the Intercollegiate, Larned did not appear, though entered from Columbia, and Chace won the tournament. Chace by winning the Intercollegiate adds to his claim for the position. Chace beat Hobart at Baltimore; Budlong and Foote at Longwood; Foote, Budlong, and

A. E. Wright at the Wentworth; Wrenn, Foote, and Budlong at Essex. Besides Larned, he beat A. W. Post, Budlong, John Howland and E. L. Hall at Narragansett; and Foote and Howland at the Intercollegiate. He won the tournament at Essex and Narragansett Pier, and also the Intercollegiate Championship.

Fifth place is given to W. A. Larned. He beat M. D. Smith at Philadelphia; R. Stevens and E. L. Hall at Seabright, winning the cup; M. Wright, Duncan Candler, Hobart, R. Stevens, and E. L. Hall at Southampton, winning the Long Island Championship. At Newport he defeated M. G. Chace.

E. L. Hall is placed sixth. He defeated M. G. Chace, who had just defeated Hobart at Baltimore and won the Southern Championship for the third time. He defeated Richard Stevens at Narragansett Pier, and at Newport won over John Howland and C. E. Sands.

Richard Stevens is entitled to seventh place. He won the Middle States Championship for the second time, defeating A. E. Foote in the Challenge match. He won the Longwood tournament from Wrenn, Chace, and V. G. Hall, and played Hovey a very close match for the Longwood Cup.

Eighth place goes to A. E. Foote, who defeated Butterworth, of foot ball fame, and A. J. Shaw, Jr., for the Yale Championship. He won the All-Comers' match at Orange for the Middle States Championship, being defeated by R. Stevens in the Championship match. He met Clarence Hobart in the finals at New Haven after defeating Deane Miller. At Essex he defeated Malcolm G. Chace and also C. R. Budlong. At the Intercollegiate he defeated C. R. Budlong and met M. G. Chace in the finals. He played a very good match against Hovey at Newport, winning the first set.

For ninth place John Howland has been selected. His rowing at Yale has interfered with tennis practice. At Southampton he defeated V. G. Hall, and at Newport he won the Consolation, beating Chace two straight sets. In the Intercollegiate he started out a sure winner over Chace, winning the first set "to love." Then Chace began to lob, and this change in his game saved him from defeat.

The tenth position belongs to C. R. Budlong. He won the Harvard Interscholastic, and afterward, at Newport, the Interscholastic Championship of the United States. He beat Hobart and Foote at Essex and W. G. Parker at Newport. With Chace he won the Intercollegiate Championship in doubles for Brown.

THE INTERSCHOLASTIC MOVEMENT.

The Interscholastic movement was started at Cambridge in 1891, and a tournament was held then in which ten preparatory schools were represented. Another meeting was held in 1892, at which twenty-four schools were represented. Thinking that the field was a good one, other University Tennis Associations were asked to form interscholastics, and in 1893 Yale, Princeton, and Columbia responded and held tournaments. The four winners of these met in Newport at the time of the National Tournament to determine the Interscholastic champion.

The tournaments of May were held in Cambridge, New Haven, Princeton, and Williamsbridge, N. Y. C. R. Budlong won at Harvard, F. E. Howard won at Yale, S. G. Thompson won at Princeton, and W. G. Parker won at Columbia.

At Newport, Thompson beat Howard, 6-1, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2; Budlong beat Parker, 6-1, 6-4, 7-5; and Budlong beat Thompson, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3. C. R. Budlong of the Providence High School became the champion.

the simplest; but as the requisite piece of grass land is rarely available, particulars for preparing it are seldom required. In improving such a piece of turf care should be taken to remove all weeds or coarse grasses, and to freely use the spirit-level. To raise hollow places the turf should be cut out, lifted, and fine soil placed underneath until the proper height has been obtained, when the turf should be replaced and well beaten down with the flat side of a spade. On the other hand, small mounds should be removed by taking the soil away from under the grass, some fine mould being placed underneath the turf before it is replaced. To prepare a court for sowing seeds the same instructions may be followed as for making a turf-laid one, except that the seed will be sown instead of the turfs laid. Take care that the seed is good by purchasing from a first-class seedsman, and, when ordering, it will be well to state what sort of soil is to be sown. By far the larger number of courts are made by laying fresh turfs.

When preparing the ground for a court, it is desired to level a portion measuring 100 x 50 feet, which allows an ample margin; but for the playing portion itself only 78 x 36 feet is necessary. If economy must be strictly considered only the latter need be carefully prepared, but it is better to have the whole done if possible. In making the preliminary arrangements much depends upon the subsoil. If this is very light a little clay should be worked in with it; but if very heavy a better court may be made by excavating to the depth of three or four inches and filling in with gravel and mould. In every case a thin layer of fine mould, which has been sifted through a sieve with a $\frac{1}{2}$ in. mesh, should be laid to the depth of an inch or so, and on this layer the turfs should be placed. Before this thin layer is put on, the ground should be rolled with a very heavy roller, so as to ensure its being thoroughly levelled. The superficial measurement of each turf is 3 ft. x 1 ft., and these can be obtained at prices varying from \$1.25 to \$2.00 per 100, according to the locality. For the court only about ten hundred are necessary; but if the margin is relaid twenty-four hundred will be used. If the selected ground is covered with good turf, but is uneven, the turfs can be cut and taken off and relaid after the ground has been prepared as directed. The cost of the turfs can easily be ascertained, or can be estimated from the particulars given above. The amount of labor required varies according to the nature of the soil; but, roughly speaking, it would take three men four or five days to prepare the ground and cut and relay the turfs. If, however, there is some excavating to be done, the cost will be increased by the value of another four days' labor. Therefore, under favorable circumstances, with the turf already provided, the cost of a good grass court, with full sized margin, would be from sixty-five (65) to seventy-five (75) dollars. If the turfs have to be purchased the cost would be about one hundred and twenty-five (125) dollars, and if in addition it is necessary to excavate and relay the soil, a further amount of twenty (20) dollars must be expended.

HARD COURTS.

For winter or wet weather play, it is necessary to find a substitute for grass courts, and many materials have been tried with the object of ascertaining which is the best. The variety of these is great. There are gravel, cinder, rubble, concrete, cement, tar-paving and asphalt. Of these the latter is the best; but it is also much the most expensive, and, therefore, less likely to be used. Concrete and cement courts rarely withstand the effects of a severe frost. Tar-paving is cheap and useful. Cinders are dry but dirty. Gravel is the best for ordinary wear and tear, but only if the proper sort of gravel is used. A good gravel court can be played on immediately after a heavy rain, for it dries quickly. It is pleasant in color, and does not discolor the balls so rapidly as most of the other materials used for hard courts. The only occasion on which it cannot be used is when a thaw succeeds a sharp frost, and then it must be untrodden or the gravel will come away in patches.

GRAVEL COURTS.

The ground for a space of 80 x 36 feet should be excavated to a depth of seven inches. This completed, put in a layer of brick rubbish in pieces about one and a half inch cubes to the depth of four inches. This must be thoroughly well beaten down, levelled, and rolled with a heavy roller before the gravel is put on. The drainage will be improved by laying four-inch drain pipes about 12 feet apart in this layer of brick rubbish. Immediately before laying the gravel, the lower level should be thoroughly soaked with water, and then the coarser gravel, to the depth of about two inches, be placed on it. The finer stuff should be laid on the top, and the whole well watered and rolled during the whole time it is being laid. Water, from a watering-pot or other contrivance, should be poured on the roller while it is being used. It does not matter if the gravel gets "squashy," it will be firm and well bound when it has dried. The surface should be slightly inclined (a fall of two or three inches will do) from the ends to the centre, and an open drain should be laid underneath where the net will be placed to carry off the water after a heavy rain. This may be covered with open tiles or light iron gratings to keep the balls from rolling in. After the top surface has been laid and well watered and rolled, it should not be trodden on until the whole is thoroughly dry. During hot or dry weather, these courts should be watered and rolled every morning or evening — the latter for choice. The costs of gravel courts naturally varies considerably, according to the accessibility of the gravel pits. Croydon gravel is considered the best for the purpose; but there are many places where a good, hard, close binding material can be obtained. The price of the gravel depends greatly upon the cartage required; but to enable an estimate to be made it will be sufficient to state that in the State of New York Croydon gravel can be obtained for about one dollar and fifty cents per square yard. If only the court itself — i. e., a space 78 x 36 feet — be laid, twenty-six loads will be necessary, but if the margin be similarly laid (as it should be), the area will be 99 x 48 feet, and sixty-seven loads of gravel will be required. For the smaller space thirty-five, and for the larger ninety loads of brick rubbish would be wanted. The labor required (exclusive of carrying or cartage) would not be very expensive. Five men would do the excavation, levelling, and filling in, in six days for the smaller space, and in eight or nine days for the larger area. Approximately, the total cost for the court only should not exceed one hundred and twenty-five dollars ($125), and for the court and margin two hundred and fifty dollars ($250).

CINDER COURTS.

Cinder or ash courts are easily made, and cause little trouble to keep in order. To make them a space of 100 x 50 feet in extent should be excavated to a depth of eight and a half inches. A main drain, with three-inch pipes should be laid, with a fall of two feet in the whole length, and into this should run five branches of two-inch pipes. Agricultural drain pipes, and not the glazed and jointed, must be used. About five inches of brick rubbish should form the bottom layer, and this must be watered, rolled, and levelled. Next lay about three inches of clinkers, or the rough scouring of ashes, which must be well watered and rolled, and then add the finishing layer of the finest screened household ashes. This must be put on in very thin layers, each layer being well watered and rolled, for if it is put on thickly it will not bind. The court when finished will soon dry, and afterwards a daily watering and rolling is all that is required. The fine cinders should cost about one dollar and twenty-five cents ($1.25) a load, and the brick rubbish and clinkers not more than fifty cents, and the cost, including labor would be about two hundred and fifty dollars ($250) to three hundred ($300).

TAR-PAVING COURTS.

These are frequently spoken of as concrete or asphalt, but the material being the same as is frequently used for paving the pathways of streets, it is technically known as "Tar-paving." When properly laid and made these are very useful courts. They require very little attention. They dry quickly, and can be played on in any weather.

ASPHALT COURTS.

None but skilled workmen can make a proper asphalt court, and it is not, therefore, necessary to give details of its construction. The cost may be roughly stated at from five hundred ($500) to six hundred and fifty dollars ($650). Concrete or cement courts are expensive, although they do not cost so much as asphalt, but they give nothing like the satisfaction which the latter affords. Rubble courts are made very much in the same way as gravel. They are less expensive and less durable, and are not generally satisfactory.

COVERED COURTS.

So few of these have so far been erected that it is impossible, with any degree of confidence, to recommend any particular system. The cost of a full sized covered court would, in no case, be less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), and, properly built and finished, one would hardly be obtained for less than ten thousand dollars ($10,000). Those desiring to build or see excellent models should visit the stockholders' building in West Forty-First Street, New York City, and the newly erected club in Boston.

How to Mark Out a Court.

As a double court practically includes every line to be found in a single court, it is best to take first the measure for the latter. Having determined the position of your net, plant in the ground, in the line chosen, two pegs, 27 feet apart (at the points A and B in the diagram). Then take two measures and attach their respective ends to the pegs A and B . On the first, which will measure the diagonal of the court, take a length of 47 ft. 5 in.; on the other 39 ft.; pull both taut in such directions that at these distances they meet in a point C . This will give one corner of the court. At that point F , 21 feet from B , put in a peg to mark the end of the service-line. The other corner, D, and the other end of the service-line G, may be found by interchanging the measures and repeating the process. The same measurements on the other side of the net will complete the exterior boundaries of the court. By prolonging the base-line 4 ft. 6 in. in each direction, and joining the four new points thus obtained, we can make the side-lines of a double court. It only remains to mark the central line. This is done by joining the middle points of the service-lines. If a double court alone be required, the interior side-lines need not be prolonged to meet the base-lines. Remember that in all cases the net-posts must stand at a distance of three feet from the side-lines.

Rules for Handicapping.

In handicap matches the competitors shall be handicapped by the Committee or by a Handicapper appointed by the Committee.

The handicap shall be by classes as below : —

CLASS 0 (SCRATCH).

Class 1 receives 1 quarter of 15 " 2 " 2 quarters of 15 " 3 " 3 quarters of 15 " 4 " 15 " 5 " 15 and 1 quarter " 6 " 15 and 2 quarters		Class 7 receives 15 and 3 quarters " 8 " 30 " 9 " 30 and 1 quarter " 10 " 30 and 2 quarters " 11 " 30 and 3 quarters " 12 " 40
---	--	---

When two players in different classes below scratch meet, the superior player shall start from scratch, and the odds received by the inferior player are as shown by the annexed table, No. 1.

To use the table, find in the diagonal line of figures the number representing the class of the superior player, then travel along the corresponding horizontal column until the vertical column is reached which bears at the top the number of the class of the inferior player. The odds specified at the intersection of the two columns are the odds required.

Example. If class 3 has to meet class 9, start from the figure 3 in the diagonal line of figures, and look horizontally until the vertical column is reached headed by the figure 9. The odds given at the point of intersection of the two columns (namely, 15 and 3 quarters) are the odds required.

OWED ODDS.

When the difference between the best and the worst players entered is great (say more than 30), it is desirable to handicap the best players at owed odds. The players above scratch (that is, owing odds) should be classified as follows : —

Class 1	owes	1 quarter of 15	Class 7	owes	15 and 3 quarters
" 2	"	2 quarters of 15	" 8	"	30
" 3	"	3 quarters of 15	" 9	"	30 and 1 quarter
" 4	"	15	" 10	"	30 and 2 quarters
" 5	"	15 and 1 quarter	" 11	"	30 and 3 quarters
" 6	"	15 and 2 quarters	" 12	"	40

When two players in different classes above scratch meet, the inferior player shall start from scratch, and the odds owed by the superior player are as shown by the annexed table, No. 2. The class of the superior player is to be looked for in the horizontal line of figures at the top and the class of the inferior player in the diagonal line at the left.

Example. If class 12 (owe 40) meet class 6 (owe 15 and 2 quarters), the former must give the latter the odds of owe 15 and 1 quarter.

A difficult point arises if two players in a handicap fail to learn from the Referee, or, having so learnt, forget the odds at which they should play and play at wrong odds.

The general practice has hitherto been to order the match to stand, but the best authorities consider that the match is legally void. The loser may, therefore, claim to have the match replayed, and it rests with the Referee or Committee either to allow the claim or if the time allowed for the round has expired to scratch both the competitors. If the loser does not immediately appeal, the match stands. If the players are wrongly instructed by the Referee, the loser may always claim to have the match replayed. Of course the loser cannot appeal if the mistake in the odds has been in his favor.

Odds.

ON THE ONE-QUARTER-FIFTEEN SYSTEM.

In the case of received odds.

(a) One quarter of fifteen is one stroke, given at the beginning of the second and every subsequent fourth game of a set.

(b) Two quarters of fifteen is one stroke, given at the beginning of the second and every subsequent alternate game of a set.

(c) Three quarters of fifteen is one stroke, given at the beginning of the second, third, fourth, and the three last of every subsequent four games of a set.

(d) One, two, or three quarters of fifteen may be given in augmentation of other odds.

(e) Fifteen is one stroke, given at the beginning of every game of a set.

(f) Thirty is two strokes, given at the beginning of every game of a set.

(g) Forty is three strokes, given at the beginning of every game of a set.

(f) Forty is three strokes, owed at the beginning of every game of a set.

“100”-up Scoring.

The common method of scoring, by sets and games, is derived from the ancient game of tennis. Although it has been universally adopted, it has some disadvantages; for instance, it may easily happen that a player may score in a match more strokes or even more games than his antagonist and yet be beaten. For handicaps in which more than two players are competing, the complex and unsatisfactory system of adjusting the odds required by tennis scoring is a serious drawback. The method of scoring by points, known as the “Pastime” System, has been devised to meet these defects, and has, during the past few seasons, attained a considerable amount of popularity. Its rules are as follows:—

RULES FOR THE “PASTIME” SYSTEM OF HANDICAPS BY POINTS.

1. The player first serving shall serve six successive times, and then his opponent shall serve six successive times, and so on alternately, the service always changing after any one player has served six times consecutively. One good service, or one fault, and one good service, or two faults, to count as one service.

2. Players shall change courts, after the first, third, fifth, and every alternate series of services shall have been completed. Each six successive services shall be one series of services.

3. When players both receiving odds are drawn together they shall start at their respective odds, and the player giving points shall not start from scratch.

4. The player first obtaining 100 * (one hundred) points shall be declared the winner of the game, unless the score shall have been called "99 all," in which case the game shall proceed until one of the players shall have a majority of two points, when the player having that majority shall be declared the winner. No game shall be won by a less majority than two points.

5. With the above exceptions the laws of lawn tennis adopted by the Lawn Tennis Association shall apply.

SAMUEL T. CHASE

Western Champion.

The Bagnall-Wild System of Drawing.

The object of this method of drawing is to eliminate all the byes in the first round, both for convenience and still more because a bye is of less value in the first round than later in the tournament.

If the number of entries is a power of 2, for example, 4, 8, 16, 32, or 64, there need be no byes. In other cases a preliminary round must be played, in which there shall be as many matches as the number of entries exceeds the power of 2 next below, all the other contestants having byes.

For example, suppose that there are 37 entries. The power of 2 next below is 32, therefore there must be 5 matches and 27 byes.

In this way the five losers go out and the number of contestants is reduced to 32, which will always divide by 2 (16, 8, 4, 2, 1).

The names should be written on slips of paper and the slips carefully folded and put in a hat. They are then drawn one by one and written one below the other, the pairs that are to play together being bracketed. One half the byes should come first, next the matches, last the remaining byes. Should there be an uneven number of byes, the odd one goes at the bottom. One example will suffice. There are 19 entries; three matches must be played to reduce the number to 16; that will leave 13 byes, 6 at the top of the list and 7 at the bottom, as follows:—

106 THE BAGNALL-WILD SYSTEM OF DRAWING.

P takes first prize ; G second ; D and O equal thirds.

Cases and Decisions.

The following Cases and Decisions are intended to meet questions often asked at tournaments, and also to cover points apparently not provided for in the laws. They have been prepared with the advice and assistance of Messrs. W. and E. Renshaw, B. C. Eveleigh, N. L. Jackson, and R. D. Sears, to whom the author returns his thanks.

I. A player standing outside the court volleys the ball or catches it in his hand, and claims the stroke because the ball was certainly going out of court.

Decision. — He loses the stroke. It makes no difference where he was standing. The return is presumed good until it strikes the ground outside of the court.

II. A player is struck by the ball served before it has touched the ground, he being outside of the service court. How does it count?

Decision. — The player struck loses the stroke. The service is presumably good until it strikes in the wrong court. A player cannot take the decision upon himself by stopping the ball. If it is going to be a fault, he has only to get out of the way.

III. The service is delivered before the striker-out is ready. He tries to return it and fails. Is he entitled to have it played over again?

Decision. — No. If he attempt to return the service, he is deemed ready.

IV. The striker-out calls "Not ready" for a second service. The ball strikes beyond the service line, and the striker-out claims that the fact that he was not ready makes no difference, since a fault cannot be returned, and therefore that two faults have been served.

Decision.—The second service goes for nothing. A player cannot call "Not ready," and then have the service count, or not, as suits his interests.

V. A ball having been played over the net bounds back into the court from which it came. The player reaches over the net and plays it before it falls. Has he a right to do so?

Decision.—Yes, provided he does not touch the net. He has a right to play the ball at any time from the moment it crosses the net into his court until it touches the ground a second time.

VI. A ball is played into the net; the player on the other side, thinking that the ball is coming over, strikes at it and hits the net. Who loses the stroke?

Decision.—It is simply a question of fact for the umpire to decide. If the player touched the net while the ball was still in play, he loses the stroke.

VII. Can a player follow a ball over the net with his racket, provided that he hit the ball on his own side of the net?

Decision.—Yes. The only restrictions are that he shall not volley the ball until it has crossed the net and that he shall not touch the net or any of its supports.

VIII. A player's racket slips out of his hand and flies into the net. Does he lose the stroke for hitting the net?

Decision. — Yes, if the ball be still in play. It does not matter if the racket be in a player's hand or not.

IX. A player's racket leaves his hand, but meets the ball and returns it over the net. Is it a good return?

Decision. — Yes. There is no law requiring a racket to be in a player's hand when the ball is returned. It would unquestionably be a good return if the racket were held against the ground by a player's feet, and the ball bounded back off of it.

X. A single match is played with a double net and inside posts. A player touches the net beyond the inside posts, and claims that he does not lose the stroke because there should be no net more than three feet outside of the court.

Decision. — He loses the stroke. The net where he touched it is part of the supports of the net. He might perhaps have objected to the arrangement of the net before the match.

XI. A player returns the ball, and, finding that he cannot stop himself before reaching the net, jumps over it. Is it a good return?

Decision. — Law 4 requires that "the players shall stand on opposite sides of the net," and therefore the player invading his opponent's court loses the stroke.

XII. A ball passes outside the post of the net and strikes in court. Is it a good return?

Decision. — Yes.

XIII. A ball going out of court hits the top of the post of the net and bounds into the opposite court.

Decision. — It is a good return. See Law 21.

XIV. The service or the ball in play strikes a ball lying in the court. Can it be returned?

Decision. — Yes, if it be clear to the umpire that the right ball is returned.

XV. The server claims that the striker-out must stand in the court. Is this necessary?

Decision. — No. The striker-out can stand wherever he pleases on his own side of the net.

XVI. A bystander gets in the way of a player who fails to return the ball. May he then claim a let?

Decision. — Yes, if, in the umpire's opinion, he were prevented by an accident beyond his control. For instance, if the ropes or the seats are allowed to be so near to the court that a player is interfered with by them, the stroke should not be played again, because the ropes and seats form part of the arrangements of the ground. If, however, a spectator pass in front of those seats, or place a chair nearer than the original line, and so interferes with a player, the stroke should be played again.

XVII. A player is interfered with as above, and the umpire directs the stroke to be played again. The server had previously served a fault. He claims the right to two services.

Decision. — The fault stands. A let does not annul a previous fault.

XVIII. A return hits the umpire or his chair or stand; the player claims that the ball was going into court.

Decision. — Stroke is lost.

XIX. A player receiving fifteen serves from the left court; his opponent claims a fault.

Decision. — It is a fault. The service starts from the right court under all circumstances.

XX. At fifteen-all the server by mistake serves from the left court; he wins the stroke and serves again (a fault). The mistake is then discovered. Is he entitled to the previous stroke? From which court should he serve next?

Decision. — The previous stroke stands. A fault cannot be claimed after the next service, good or not, is delivered. The next service should be from the left court, the score being thirty-fifteen, and the server has served one fault.

XXI. A player serves from the wrong court, he loses the stroke, and then claims that it was a fault.

Decision. — If the stroke were played in his first service, it is simply a fault; but if he serve twice into the wrong court, he has served two faults, and lost the stroke.

XXII. With the score at thirty-forty the server takes a bisque, and then serves from the right court. His opponent claims a fault.

Decision. — It is a fault. The service must come alternately from the right and left courts.

XXIII. A player takes a bisque after the server has served a fault. Which court does the server next serve from?

Decision. — From the same court.

XXIV. The score is five games all, and the umpire directs the players to play an advantage set. The advantage game has been won, when it is discovered that no advantage sets are to be played. What is to be done?

Decision. — The set is won at the eleventh game. It is no part of the umpire's duty to decide on the conditions of the matches.

XXV. A player serves. He hears the umpire call, but cannot hear what he says. He knows that the only two things that the umpire should call are "fault" and "let," and that in neither case can the ball be in play. He therefore does not return it, only to find that the umpire has called "play." Has he any redress?

Decision. — No.

XXVI. The umpire calls "Fault" and then instantly changes and says "Play." The striker-out fails to return the ball, and he claims that he was prevented by the umpire, and also that the umpire cannot change his decision.

Decision. — The umpire should call a let and the service be taken again.

XXVII. A ball drops near a line, the player appeals, and the umpire calls "Play." The player misunderstands the call, and lets the ball fall. He then claims to have the stroke played again.

Decision. — The stroke stands.

XXVIII. A ball strikes the ground close to a line, the scorer scores the stroke against the striker. On appeal to the linesman, the latter decided that the ball was not out. Which decision stands?

Decision. — The scorer has no right to consider a ball out until the linesman has called to that effect; therefore the decision of the latter must be accepted. The decision of a linesman affecting his own line is final.

XXIX. A return strikes the cord running along the bottom of the net and bounds over. Is it a good return?

Decision. — Yes.

XXX. During play a ball is thrown into the court and the ball in play strikes it or a player steps on it. May a let be claimed?

Decision. — Yes.

XXXI. In a four-handed competition one player does not appear in time to play, and his partner claims to be allowed to play single-handed against the opposing pair. May he do so?

Decision. — No.

JAMES DWIGHT.

LONGWOOD CRICKET CLUB TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

BOSTON, Mass., July 17 to 22, 1893.

Coming about a month before the championship tournament at Newport, being played under the same conditions, on grass courts, best three in five sets, etc., the Longwood tournament furnishes a fair preliminary test of strength and enables the players to measure each other in preparation for the struggle for championship honors.

The third annual tournament for open singles began Monday, July 17, the entries numbering fifty-one, and including many of the prominent players of the country.

The ten grass courts, especially prepared for the tournaments, were in fine condition. The club being the fortunate possessor of a very large piece of excellent turf, a large space is reserved each year for the tournament, and thus courts are furnished which will bear comparison with the best in the country.

Lunch was provided by the club on the grounds each day, and the many players were kept well in hand by the committee in charge of the tournament—Messrs. R. D. Sears, James Dwight, P. E. Presbrey, W. H. Barnes, F. S. Mansfield, F. H. Hovey, E. A. Slack, A. L. Ripley, and G. F. Brown, Jr.

In the brief space allotted to this account it is impossible to mention the many well-played and interesting matches of the week. Mr. Richard Stevens of New York won the all-comers by a succession of well-earned victories over Messrs. A. J. Shaw of Yale, Willis Lyman, Alfred Codman, and R. D. Wrenn of Harvard, V. G. Hall of New York and Malcolm Chace of Providence, R. I.

On Saturday Mr. Stevens met Mr. F. H. Hovey in the match for the Longwood Challenge Bowl. This bowl is offered by the club to be contested for annually and to become the property of any player winning it three times. Mr. E. L. Hall of New York won it in 1891 and Mr. F. H. Hovey won it from Mr. Hall in 1892.

The match between Hovey and Stevens was exceedingly hard fought and exciting, and was finally won by Hovey by a score of 8-6, 7-5, 8-6. Both were in fine condition. Stevens continued to play in his peculiar style shown in his previous matches, in the back of the court. He did not volley more than four times during the match, and then was forced to do so or let the ball pass him.

(In back court play he undoubtedly has no superior) in the country. Hovey, on the contrary, generally took advantage of opportunities to volley and smash at the net. Stevens played the same steady game which characterized his play throughout the tournament, was ever on the alert to take advantage of Hovey's misplays, and made many wonderful returns of Hovey's terrific services and smashes. His nerve and coolness were best shown in the last game of the last set, when deuce was called fifteen times before Hovey won the game. In the first part of each set, by accurate drives along the side lines or sharp cross court strokes, or careful lobbing, Stevens kept the score even (or gained the lead), and then Hovey pulled himself together, ran to the net, and, by remarkable smashing at critical points, was able to pull the set. Hovey won where Wrenn and Chace lost, because his strokes were harder than theirs, and consequently more difficult for Stevens to return accurately, and this accuracy lessened. Hovey was better able to reach the net and win points by his hard smashes. The summary of match the is:

Essex County Club—Manchester-by-the-Sea, Mass.

Before starting on our resume of the Essex County Club invitation tournament of 1893, a slight description of the club grounds may be in order. Situated, as they are, in a most charming locality, having every attraction of sea and land, easy of access to the city, its sixty-four acres present unusual advantages. The grounds comprise two tennis courts (dirt) surrounded by lawns, golf and base ball fields and polo grounds, the latter said to be among the finest in the United States.

The first invitation tournament of the Essex County Club was held on the club grounds, at Manchester-by-the-Sea, Aug. 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11.

According to the arrangement made by the invitation tournament committee, thirty matches were to be played by the following: R. D. Wrenn, Malcolm Chace, A. E. Foote, Clarence Hobart, C. R. Budlong and J. F. Talmage, Jr. Only one match and part of another were played on the first day, owing to the rain. In the unfinished Chace-Wrenn match the former led, the score being 6-4 and 2-0. On the second set Wrenn made some brilliant plays; but, as Chace was in fine form, did not have it all his own way. Wrenn won the third and fourth games, making the score two all. Chace played very accurately and took the next three games. Then Wrenn braced for a last effort and volleyed superbly, winning the eighth and ninth games, but Chace managed at last to take the set. Score, 6-4, 6-4. Chace wins.

At the same time with this match Clarence Hobart was playing his match with A. E. Foote. This should have been played the afternoon previous. In the first set Hobart showed lack of accuracy. His clean drives, made with the same graceful full-arm movements, were all there, but his eye seemed to be out. Foote played almost entirely from back of court, doing but little volleying. Hobart won.

In the Chace-Budlong match the former won, 6-1, 6-5.

On the third day play did not reach the same high standard which marked the progress of the tournament on the former days. The Chace-Talmage match, which was stopped by darkness the second day, was first in order. Chace settled things at short notice by winning a love set and the match, 6-2, 4-6, 6-0.

Talmage had to face Wrenn immediately at the close of this contest, and did not make the showing against Wrenn that might have been expected from his match with Chace. At one time in the second set Talmage had his opponent 4-1, but could not stand the pace, and Wrenn won in two straight sets, 6-1, 6-5, scoring 28 to 15 points in the first set and 64 to 24 in the second.

A complete surprise party came next. Foote, following the example of his brother Yale man, succeeded even better against Chace, and defeated him in two straight sets. This match was one of the uncertainties which happen in tennis when a lesser light catches a "crack" out of condition. Foote won. With the thermometer at 90 degrees in the shade, and with old Sol's rays beating down on the courts, the programme for the fourth days' play with but one exception was carried out. (Clarence Hobart decided to withdraw on account of the sprained finger injured on Tuesday rather than weaken his chances at Newport).

The tournament was now practically narrowed down to Chace and Wrenn. In the match between Wrenn of Harvard and Budlong of Providence, Wrenn was seen at his best. Time and again Budlong made one of his terrific returns into the corners, only to have the ball returned with fully as much speed and accuracy. Wrenn won.

Talmage of Yale next faced Chace of Brown, and a very interesting match was the result. Chace played his usual strong game, winning most of his points through his careful volleying. Talmage, on the other hand, worked as he never worked before to carry his colors to victory. He made a number of brilliant smashes, while his shots to the base line were worthy of a champion. In the match between Foote and Budlong the latter had the best of the first set, passing Foote continually at the net. Foote took a brace in the second set and played far better tennis than his rival, and continued to win till the game was declared his. The day's play was brought to a close by an exhibition between Wrenn and Talmage. The two men from Yale, Foote and Talmage, played a very interesting game on the last day of the Essex Club tournament. Talmage distinguished himself by his fine smashing. Foote played the same slow, steady game characteristic of him, covering a great deal of territory along the base line. Foote won, 6-5, 6-3. In the first match Chace defeated Wrenn by a score of 6-4, 6-1. It was a very brilliant match from the first ball to the error in the last game of the second set, which gave the match to his younger rival. This was the sixth time these noted players met this season, Wrenn having been victor four times and Chace twice.

STANDING OF THE PLAYERS.

	Won.	Lost.
Chace	8	2
Wrenn	7	3

Chace won the trophy of the tournament and Wrenn secured second prize. The festivities wound up by a base ball game in the afternoon between the tennis men and Essex Club men, which brought out a large number of spectators. The tennis men were guests at the dinner dance which followed.

THE NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB TOURNAMENT.

The second annual invitation tournament of the Neighborhood Club of West Newton was ushered in with ideal tennis weather, slightly cloudy, and not too cool. The courts were in excellent condition, smooth and hard, while the members of the club vied with each other in making this occasion, like the one of last year, a brilliant success, and a success it was, judging by the attendance increasing day by day until the last day, when over two thousand clapped, cheered and applauded the many brilliant plays of the famous tennis men.

Five of the best tennis players in the country responded favorably to the club's invitation—F. H. Hovey of Harvard, winner of last year's all-comers tournament at Newport; Clarence Hobart of New York, who won the championship of New England at New Haven; W. A. Larned of Cornell; R. D. Wrenn of Harvard, who has since won the championship of the United States at Newport, and Malcolm Chace of Providence.

The committee decided to have the tournament consist of two rounds, every player meeting every other player twice, the winner of the greatest number to take first prize.

Joseph T. Whittelsey, secretary of the United States Tennis Association, Fred S. Mansfield, H. G. Bixby, Joseph S. Clark, and H. L. Ayer were referees.

The result of the first day's playing was very satisfactory to F. H. Hovey and Clarence Hobart. Both won two matches, and were frequently applauded. Hobart defeated Wrenn in the morning and Chace in the afternoon, while Hovey worsted the former in the afternoon and won two straight sets from Larned in the morning. Notwithstanding Hovey being out of practice, he showed a remarkably fine game. The first match of the tournament brought together Wrenn of Harvard and Hobart of New York, the first having defeated Hobart at Tampa Bay, Fla., early in the spring, was beaten by him at Magnolia the following week. These old antagonists played to win. The first set was closely contested, and was finally won by Wrenn, 6-4; second set in favor of Hobart, 7-5. The final set went to Hobart, 6-4.

In the Hovey and Larned match, Hovey took the first two sets in rapid succession, 6-4, 6-2.

The match between Hobart and Chace resulted in a victory for Hobart, who played a strong game from the start, though Chace lobbed beautifully and made a good fight. Summary:

Hobart vs. Wrenn, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Hovey vs. Larned, 6-4, 6-2.

Hobart vs. Chace, 6-1, 6-0.

Hovey vs. Wrenn, 6-3, 6-4.

The second day's work opened with the match between Larned and Chace, the former holding his own in fine shape, allowing his opponent but one in the first four games ; but the tables were turned in the second set, Chace doing the aggressive and finally winning. Score, 2-6, 6-1, 6-3.

But by far the greatest interest centered in the next match between Hovey and Hobart, the principal attraction of the tournament, in fact ; and as the men met at the net their most enthusiastic friend could not point out the winner so evenly were their chances balanced. The first game brought out some very good tennis. Hovey won. In the next two games Hobart excelled in placing, and had but little difficulty in passing Hovey at the net, but the latter braced up and won a well-earned game and the set. Score, 6-4.

Hobart began the second set with a rush, winning two straight and not allowing Hovey a single point. Hovey again showed up to good advantage in the third and fourth games, winning both by wonderful placing. The Newton man took the fifth and sixth games, making the score 4-2. Hovey leads. Hobart braces up in the last game and won the set. Hovey had to win the next game or lose the match, but lost a love game on his serve, Hobart winning. Score, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, the New Yorker securing 49 points and the Harvard man 42, respectively. Hobart's strongest work was in not giving Hovey chance to smash and in cross court drives.

Chace of Brown and Wrenn of Harvard took the courts for the first match of the afternoon. The men played good tennis, making most of their plays from back of the court. Both players covered a large amount of ground, and Wrenn worried Chace not a little by the way he returned his difficult shots into the corners. Wrenn took the first four games, lost the fifth, and won the next two and the set. 6-1.

Chace put up a much better game after losing three straight in the second set and won the next three. Chace now had the lead of one, and the games alternated until the score was 6 all, when Wrenn won a hard deuce game and then settled the match by rushing a love game. Score, 8-6. Match, 6-1, 8-6. Points, Wrenn, 48; Chace, 41.

The third day found every one interested in tennis completely at sea. First Hobart beat Hovey, then Malcolm Chace won two straight sets from Hobart, Hovey then beat Chace and leads all the combatants, though by a very narrow margin as far as Hobart is concerned. Wrenn, Chace and Larned follow in order. The greatest surprise was the defeat of Hobart by Chace. In the Hovey-Wrenn contest the match went to Hovey. Summary:

F. H. Hovey beat R. D. Wrenn, 8-6, 6-8, 6-2.

Malcolm Chace beat Clarence Hobart, 7-5, 7-5.

R. D. Wrenn beat W. A. Larned, 5-7, 6 4, 7-5.

F. H. Hovey beat Malcolm Chace, 7-5, 6-2.

When Hovey met Chace on the last day of the tournament the latter played a steadier game than he had been doing; but, owing to a slight strain, decided to default. The next match was between Wrenn and Larned. Wrenn continued to play his usual careful game. Larned's poor showing was due to illness. He was advised not to play, but decided to meet Wrenn in order not to interfere with arrangements of the tournament committee. Wrenn won. Score, 6-1, 6-1.

The honors were now equally divided between Hovey and Hobart. Long before their match began every possible inch of space was occupied.

Pretty drives gave Hobart the first game and accuracy gave Hovey the second. Good judgment gave Hobart the third. After this the Newton man won and the set was his, 6-2. In the next set the play was very rapid, being closely contested. The audience was half wild with excitement. Two other games followed, and when Umpire Mansfield shouted, "Four games to two and Hobart leads," the applause for Hobart and the "Oh's" for Hovey were about equally mixed. For the two following games Hovey stood manfully to his work, but, after a hard struggle, lowered his colors to the man from New York.

This victory made Hobart and Hovey tied for the first two places, with six victories and two defeats. By agreement the first and second prize was divided, each winner receiving a trophy of equal value.

During the tournament Hovey won 105 games, Hobart 97, Wrenn 103, Larned 62, and Chace 46.

In the evening the club grounds were illuminated with Chinese lanterns and electric lights. The Germania band rendered fine music, while victors and vanquished, players and spectators mingled together in the promenade or danced in the large tent erected for that purpose.

The members of the club were overwhelmed with congratulations for their successful tournament, and, with many expressions of pleasure and good wishes, the second annual tennis event of the Newtons was over.

ALL-COMERS' TOURNAMENT FOR CHAMPIONSHIP OF PACIFIC STATES.

GENTLEMEN'S SINGLES.

The sixth annual tournament held by the Pacific States Lawn Tennis Association for the determining of the Coast championship in gentlemen's singles was commenced on the grounds at San Rafael, Cal., July 3, 1893. William H. Taylor, Jr., who has held the championship for so many years, had decided to take a trip East in company with another tennis expert, Joseph S. Tobin, to try their chances with some of the Eastern players in the national doubles played at Chicago. Messrs. Hubbard and Yates were also away, so that the tournament this year lacked just so much of its usual interest.

Among those who contested were the two Hardy boys—Samuel and Sumner—who won the doubles last year, Messrs. Stetson and De Long, Allen, Mallory, and Whitney. The longest match of the meet was that between Thomas Driscoll and Samuel Hardy. Twenty-six games were played before the first set was settled in Driscoll's favor by a score of 14-12. The second set went to Hardy by a score of 6-4, but in the third set Driscoll seemed to have recovered his pace and secured the set by 6-4 and the match two sets to one. The winner had now to meet Allen in the finals, and as there would be no championship contest, as Mr. Taylor was absent, the winner of this match would become the Coast champion in singles. On account of the heat the match was deferred until late in the afternoon. The court and surroundings presented a beautiful sight. The grand stand was filled with interested observers, each one anxious that their representative should win, and so the Oakland and San Francisco clubs were arrayed against each other in friendly rivalry. As the two contestants appeared they were greeted with great applause. The style adopted by each of the players was immediately noticeable. Driscoll, who is left-handed and is known as "the cyclone," used pace and good judgment, and succeeded in keeping his opponent on the run. He reached the net as soon as possible, and, by turning the balls as they came over to different parts of the court, kept Allen busy most of the time. Allen tried to drive Driscoll back from the net by lobbing, and thereby gained some advantage, but in every respect his opponent's game was superior, so that the Oakland representative won the match and the championship by the score of 6-3, 6-4, 6-3. Below is given the results of the semi-finals and finals:

SEMI-FINALS.

Thomas Driscoll beat Samuel Hardy, 14-12, 4-6, 6-4.

A. F. Allen beat Sumner Hardy, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

FINALS.

Thomas Driscoll beat A. F. Allen, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3.

CHAMPIONSHIP ROUND.

Thomas Driscoll (challenger) beat W. H. Taylor, Jr. (holder) by default.

GENTLEMEN'S DOUBLES.

The all-comers of the gentlemen's doubles commenced at 10 o'clock with an overcast sky, granting to each team an equal light, Messrs. Bates and Driscoll of the Oakland Club and Larken and Wilber of the Olympic first taking the courts. Bates and Driscoll (the latter being the Coast champion) had things all their own way, winning two straight sets and the match. Score, 6-1, 6-2.

The second match was between Messrs. Magee and Sandborn of the Oakland Club and Allison and Wilberforce of the California Club. While Allison played in excellent form and did the cleverest work of the four, Wilberforce made a few good drives, but his playing throughout was decidedly wild. Magee and Sandborn's team work was strong, while their service and driving proved very effective, thus winning the match. Score, 6-4, 6-3.

The third match, between Messrs. Fine and Byxbee of the Oakland Club and the Whitney brothers of the California Club, resulted in a victory for the Oakland team, whose smashes and clever placing gave them the match. Score, 6-4, 6-3.

Messrs. Allen and Hobart and Stetson and De Long, all of the California Club, were the next to cross rackets. Both teams played the hardest kind of tennis, it taking a quick eye to follow the numerous brilliant plays, Stetson and De Long winning the match with little to spare. Score, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4.

The most evenly matched contestants were Bates and Driscoll against Magee and Sandborn. The latter team played a hard drive game, and, though every game was deuce-vantage, won the set, 6-3. In the next set Driscoll played with rare judgment, scoring many pick-ups. Bates' passes were very clever, thus winning the set, 6-1, the third set going to the same team, 6-4.

In the semi-finals Stetson and De Long won from Fine and Byxbee quite easily. Score, 6-1, 6-4.

After the ladies' championship match, the Hardy brothers of the Oakland Club appeared on the courts ready to defend their title as champions, won the previous year, against Messrs. Stetson and De Long of the California Club, and they succeeded in doing so in three straight sets. Their team work was admirable. Their plays at the net, smashing and placing, was indeed perfect, and though evident after the first set had been played that the Hardys would renew their title for another year, the opposing team, nothing disheartened, gamely contested every point, but try as they would the Oakland team was invincible. Score, 6-8, 7-5, 6-1.

LADIES' ALL-COMERS TOURNAMENT.

For championship of Pacific States; in singles. Sept. 7, 8, and 9, 1893.

Pennants representing the colors of the California, Oakland, and Olympic Lawn Tennis Clubs shared with the Stars and Stripes the honors of the flagstuffs around the tennis courts at the Hotel Rafael on the opening day of the Pacific Coast championship tournaments for ladies' singles and gentlemen's doubles.

The fair contestants showed unmistakably that they could put up as good a battle as the men. At stages of the matches the playing was superb.

The ladies' matches being played on the 7th, and the gentlemen's matches on the 8th, allowed the winner of the all-comers sufficient rest before meeting the holders of the championships on the 9th.

Owing to the absence in the East of several of the best lady players, the entries were not large, the Misses Gibbs, Lord, Crouch, and Wilkison, all first-class players, being at the World's Fair.

The tournament was opened by Miss Roberts and Miss Bates. Miss Bates' play in the first set was rather erratic, Miss Roberts winning 7 to 5, mainly on swift, sure service.

The second set went to Miss Bates by clean net plays, 6 to 4.

The final set and match was won by Miss Roberts, whose clever placing and hard service Miss Bates was unable to cope with. Score 6 to 2.

The second match of the ladies' tournament was hard-fought throughout, and fine plays were developed by both contestants, Miss Bee Hooper and Miss Alice Hoffman.

Miss Hooper uses a drive stroke so swift and powerful that few men could equal, and covers her court with a rapidity and grace seldom witnessed in a lady. While Miss Hoffman played a steady and at times a brilliant game, she was compelled to succumb to the hard driving game and accurate placing of Miss Hooper, who won the match. Score, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

After lunch Miss Bates and Miss Hooper met in the finals of the all-comers, the winner to meet Miss Susie Morgan, the Coast champion, on Saturday, the 9th.

This final match was indeed a treat. Each of the fair contestants was determined to outplay the other. Nearly every game was deuce-vantage, the ball being passed over the net fourteen times during a rally in the second set; but again Miss Hooper proved her superiority by the aid of her wonderful drives, and won the match and all-comers' prize. Score, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1.

The ladies' championship for the ensuing year was decided on Saturday forenoon, when Miss Bee Hooper met Miss Susie Morgan, and was witnessed by an immense crowd of lovers of the racket. Many pinned their faith on Miss Morgan's ability to defend her title as champion, while other judges, who witnessed Miss Hooper's brilliant work in winning the all-comers', were equally as confident. The match was the longest as well as the hardest ever played between ladies on the Coast, Miss Hooper winning the championship by only one game, as the following score shows: 9-7, 6-4, 3-6, 9-11, 7-5.

CANADIAN LAWN TENNIS ASSOCIATION CHALLENGE CUP

LAWN TENNIS IN CANADA.

The Canadian Lawn Tennis Association opened its fourth annual tournament on the grounds of the Toronto Club, July 25, 1893, and following days. There was a list of eighteen entries—twelve from Toronto, three from the States, two from Barrie and one from Ottawa, and the Ladies' Championship.

The weather during the tournament was all that could be asked, and the interest shown by both players and spectators as the play progressed proved that lawn tennis promises to become one of Canada's most favorite pastimes. The last day of the tournament was more numerously attended than ever had been a tennis event held on the grounds of the Toronto Club. Once more, for the fourth summer, has the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association brought to a conclusion a successful tournament, and upon its handsome challenge cup will be engraved a fourth name—that of H. E. Avery of Detroit—to bear company with the names already inscribed thereon: 1890, E. E. Tanner, Buffalo; 1891, Fred Mansfield, Boston; 1892, F. H. Hovey, Boston; 1893, H. E. Avery, Detroit.

CHAMPIONSHIP SINGLES.

At one time during the finals in singles between Mackenzie, Toronto Club, and Avery, Detroit Athletic Club, it was all in favor of the former; yet, with two sets against him, the American suddenly struck a winning pace that carried him to a well-earned victory. Mackenzie played a very plucky game, and at the end of the contest, as a true sportsman, frankly admitted that the best man won. The sets were as follows: 4-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-1, 6-3.

Hovey was unable to be present to defend the cup, as he had to be in Chicago to play in the championship doubles.

FINALS IN DOUBLES.

In the final of the doubles Paddock and Cole of the Detroit Athletic Club had no difficulty in vanquishing the Popes in three sets. The first set required sixteen games to be played, but in the remaining sets the result was never in doubt. In saying this there is no disparagement of the Popes' play, as a large portion of it was of a high order. Simply and solely, the Detroit team's work was almost perfect, individually and in combination, and it would have been a good pair indeed that could have worsted them.

The sets were as follows: 9-7, 6-1, 6-4.

THE LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP.

Last year Miss Osborne of Sutton defeated Mrs. Smith of Ottawa for the championship after a terrific struggle. There was no cup then on which to record this fact, but this year the association has provided a handsome challenge cup, whereon will be engraved the name of Miss Osborne as the champion of 1893, for she won again, and from the same skilful opponent, and after another splendid encounter.

The exhibition of tennis given by these ladies was very fine. It was a struggle of proficient in every style of play. Perhaps Mrs. Smith excelled on the back hand, and was equally accurate in placing, while Miss Osborne drove somewhat harder and served a more difficult ball. In some of the rallies, more especially one at the close of the first set, there must have been at least a dozen returns of difficult strokes by each player. It is only fair to recall the fact that Mrs. Smith had played three hard matches on the two preceding days, and was, perhaps, to some extent affected thereby. Be this as it may, it was a contest full of glory to both, and the victor can feel that none will dispute her claim to rank as Canada's champion lady for the year 1893. Score of each set: 6-8, 8-6, 6-2.

THE CANADIAN ASSOCIATION MEETING.

During the week of the tennis tournament the annual meeting of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association was held at the Queen's Hotel. Ottawa was selected as the place for holding next year's tournament. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—H. G. Mackenzie, Toronto.

Vice-President—H. D. Warren, Granite.

Secretary—A. C. Rowe, Ottawa.

Executive Committee—C. Elliott, W. Scott, A. Adamson, W. E. Hodgins (Ottawa), R. W. P. Matthews (Toronto), E. Rykert (St. Catharines), A. A. Macdonald (Park), G. Blaikie (Victoria), Helmuth (London).

A JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP ESTABLISHED BY THE CANADIAN LAWN TENNIS ASSOCIATION.

For the encouragement of young players it was decided to establish a junior championship, open to Canadian boys 18 years of age and under. The first meeting will be held in Toronto next year, if possible before the Ottawa tournament, and following years where the executive may direct. A. A. Macdonald was made director of the meeting for 1894.

H. E. AVERY
Canadian Champion.

NIAGARA INTERNATIONAL TOURNAMENT.

The picturesque courts of the Queen's Royal Hotel, Niagara-on-the-Lake, situated at the historic watering place where the Niagara River meets Lake Ontario, are annually the scene of an international tennis tournament, where players from both sides of the border and large number of friends and spectators gather for a week's delightful outing. This tournament is the oldest in Canada, being now in its tenth year, and is particularly fortunate not only in the number of its entries, but in the pleasant events, the balls, dances, and concerts, and other gayeties which enliven tournament week. The programme offers every opportunity, including, as it does, the all-comers' singles, open handicap singles, men's doubles, ladies' singles, veterans' singles, ladies' doubles, and mixed doubles.

The entry list for 1893 was the largest yet seen at any Canadian tournament. The all-comers' was won by F. K. Ward of Rochester, who had just returned from Newport, where he reached the third round. He defeated H. Avery of Detroit, the Canadian champion, by 6-1, 6-0, 7-5. The challenge match for the Queen's Royal Challenge Cup, in which Ward met A. F. Fuller of Boston, the holder, resulted in a beautiful display of tennis. Ward's forehand smashing with his fine back hand volleying were remarkable, while Fuller's side line strokes and steady lobbing were unequalled. The match was considered the finest exhibition of tennis ever seen in Canada, and was won by the young and promising player from Rochester, who is only in his seventeenth year, by the score 8-6, 2-6, 6-4, 6-0.

The open handicap, in which a prize was kindly presented by Messrs. Wright & Ditson, passed off most successfully. This is the only open handicap held in Canada. Notwithstanding the fact that the players were from distant points, so nicely were the odds adjusted that every game resulted in a close contest, Dr. W. W. Coldham of Toledo (owe 40) winning the final.

The men's doubles were captured by F. K. Ward and W. A. Boys of Barrie, the Coldham brothers of Toledo being their opponents in the finals, which resulted, 6-4, 6-2, 7-5.

The ladies' singles brought together for the first time the strongest players in Canada. Miss Osborne, the Canadian champion, won from Mrs. Sydney Smith of Ottawa after three hard sets by 6-8, 6-3, 6-3.

The mixed doubles were taken by Gordon MacKenzie (Toronto) and Miss Osborne, who defeated Ashton Coldham and Miss Coldham, 6-4, 6-3.

Miss Osborne and Mrs. Smith won the ladies' doubles in the finals from Miss Bernard (England) and Miss Nay (St. Catharines), 6-2, 7-5.

The veterans' finals were won by Dr. Holford Walker of Toronto.

PRESENTATION OF PRIZES AND HOP.

The final scene in the tournament festivities took place in the ball room of the Queen's Royal Hotel the evening of the closing of the tournament, when, before the commencement of the hop, the prizes were presented to the successful competitors in the presence of a large company. The duty was gracefully performed by Mrs. J. Kerr Osborne and Mrs. Winnett, who handed the Niagara international trophy to F. K. Ward, the conqueror of A. F. Fuller. The prizes were handsome and called forth no little admiration. The hop itself was most enjoyable and a merry throng of some 600 people were present, representing a wide range of places. The tennis ball on Thursday evening was also a great success.

The tournament of 1894 will commence on Tuesday, Aug. 28, and will be followed the next week by the Ontario tournament at Hamilton.

TOURNAMENT OF THE MARITIME PROVINCES LAWN TENNIS ASSOCIATION.

The fourth annual Maritime Provinces lawn tennis tournament was held on the St. John (A. A.) Club grounds on the 22d, 23d, and 24th of August. The weather was fine and the courts in good condition. The playing was well up to the mark, though the number of entries was not quite as large as usual. It is to be regretted that so few of the winners of previous years took part.

In the gentlemen's singles there were eighteen entries.

In the third series, W. R. Turnbull won from Mr. Tupman, 7-5, 0-6, 6-3, and C. W. Clarke from T. McA. Stewart, 6-2, 6-2, and in the finals, W. R. Turnbull from C. W. Clarke, 3-6, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1.

The gentlemen's doubles were won by W. R. Turnbull and C. W. Clarke from W. S. Bannatyne and Mr. Tupper after a very keenly contested game, 6-4, 8-6, 6-2.

In the finals of the mixed doubles, H. H. Hansard and Miss Hansard won from C. W. Clarke and Miss Powys, 7-5, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4.

In the finals of the ladies' singles, Mrs. G. K. McLeod won from Miss Powys.

At the close of the tournament the St. John tennis players gave a dance for their guests, which was very much enjoyed.

THE MAGNOLIA SPRINGS TOURNAMENT.

MAGNOLIA SPRINGS, Fla., March 15, 1894.

The fourth annual tennis tournament of the Magnolia Tennis Club has just been played off, after a most exciting week of skillful and close playing. The weather being all that could be desired, the daily attendance was of goodly proportions. Those attending the tournament from a distance and stopping at the hotel here were treated to a week of tennis and continual round of pleasures that are not usually included. Play was called at 10.30 in the morning and at 2.30 in the afternoon, thus giving the contestants ample time to enjoy the swimming bath and the good cheer of the hotel, for which it is so justly famous, the midday meal being of much import to players, has especial attention, that all interested may be satisfactorily catered to.

The first day's playing showed some very fine work all around, and served to increase the interest in the playing for positions in the final rounds, the day closing with a ball, which was brilliant in every way, and included all the players as well as a number of guests of neighboring resorts.

The second day's playing was, if anything, more interesting, and was socially more of a success, as the interest was growing as the tournament developed the skill and merit of those competing.

The third day witnessed the finals, and was among those that all players fortunate enough to be here will long recall with pleasure—amid the odor of orange blossoms, jasmine and roses, which was wafted across the courts by the never-failing breezes which came from amid the groves of orange, pine and oak.

Mr. Gregory S. Bryan of Bridgeport, Conn., won first prize in singles, which was a heavy silver bowl of latest pattern, and of considerable intrinsic value. Mr. John A. Morton of the Staten Island Cricket Club took second prize, a very heavy and expensive cigarette case of silver, lined with gold. Mr. W. M. Swain of Philadelphia won the third prize, a silver-mounted razor strop. Mr. G. F. Farmer of Sandford, Fla., won the consolation prize, which was a silver match box of rare design.

In the gentlemen's doubles Messrs. Morton and Bryan carried off the honors of the day, with Messrs. C. E. and G. F. Farmer a good second.

The mixed doubles resulted in Miss Maud Reynolds and Mr. Bryan's favor after a hotly-fought three out of five sets against Miss White and Mr. Morton, who won second place, Mr. G. F. Farmer and Mrs. C. E. Farmer finishing third.

The prizes in all the classes were of especially valuable selection, and of such character as to be of great service as well as ornamental. This, together with the natural attractions of the place and the efforts of a management that spares nothing in its efforts to provide every comfort for guests, made this year's meeting one that will be long remembered as the most successful yet given. ST. AUGUSTINE TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The lawn tennis tournament for the Tropical trophy and other prizes opened March 27 on the Casino Courts, which were in fine shape (for which Superintendent Harry Lillywhite deserves great credit) for the players, who enjoyed the crisp, cool air, but it (the cool air) was too much for the fair matrons and maidens, judging by the few present during the morning hours.

Among the entries were O. S. Campbell, T. S. Beckwith, P. S. Thompson, D. B. Magoun, C. S. Bryan, H. Bohlen, J. C. McCoy, W. B. Dinsmore, A. B. Whiting, L. H. Dulles, and G. S. Smith. The prizes were handsome and quite unique. The first prize for all-comers was a beautiful bust of Frini Vichi of Carrara marble, the second a fine ormolu and enamel clock set of three pieces. The first prize for doubles was a set of solid silver after-dinner coffee spoons, the second a rattlesnake belt, both handsome and valuable. The consolation prize was a sterling silver smoker's lamp.

The silver double of the City Gates (which was won by Champion Campbell, who carried off the honors of the tournament), attracted the admiration of all.

WENTWORTH COURTS, NEWCASTLE, N. H.:

Tournament of the Newcastle Outing and Tennis Club.

The first open tournament of the Newcastle Outing and Tennis Club was held on the courts of Hotel Wentworth, Newcastle, N. H., July 25 and following days, and, like all tournaments held on these courts, proved a grand success, enjoyed alike by the guests of the hotel and visitors from Rye Beach, York Harbor, and Portsmouth.

The entry list was large, comprising some of the most promising young players—Robert D. Wrenn, champion; Malcolm Chace, intercollegiate champion; C. R. Budlong, interscholastic champion; S. D. Reed, Amherst; J. B. Reade, Harvard; J. F. Talmage, Jr., Yale, and many other college players. Under the direction of the referee (Mr. Harry Ayer of the Neighborhood Club), the tournament passed off most successfully. The prizes given were very fine.

The finals between Wrenn and Chace showed brilliant all-around tennis, and was finally won by Wrenn, Chace capturing second prize.

In doubles, Budlong and Reed proved the victors over Talmage and Reade.

During the tournament an afternoon was given up to a base ball match between the tennis players and a nine from York Harbor, captained by Mr. Humphrey Nichols, the tennis players proving victors by a score of 12 to 10, after a very interesting game.

On the evening of the last day of the tournament the guests of Hotel Wentworth favored the tennis players with a dance, which was greatly enjoyed, Prof. John Braham's orchestra furnishing fine music. Thus ended one of the pleasantest and most successful tournaments held at Newcastle, N. H.

LAWN TENNIS TOURNAMENT AT SPARTANBURG, SOUTH CAROLINA.

A large and enthusiastic crowd of ladies and gentlemen assembled on the Kirby Court to witness the match game of tennis between Messrs. Lanier and Easterbrook of Tryon, N. C., and Messrs. Chreitzberg and Lander of the Spartanburg College Tennis Association. From start to finish the game was close and brilliant, and was throughout one of the prettiest ever played in this city. During the first set the Spartanburg men were very nervous, as it was their first match game; and, besides, they have played very little together. They soon recovered themselves, however, and did some magnificent work.

While Easterbrook is not a specially brilliant player, he is remarkably steady, never making an error. Lanier, on the other hand, is more brilliant than steady. Lanier's brilliant return of a remarkably hard ball in the second set elicited much applause from the grand stand, but was offset by an equally brilliant return made by Easterbrook a little later. The Spartanburg men had been playing a smashing game, and were greatly nonplussed by Easterbrook's beautiful rainbowing, which won many points for Tryon.

The following is the score: First set, 6 to 3 in favor of Tryon; second set, 6 to 4 in favor of Spartanburg; third set, 6 to 1 in favor of Spartanburg; fourth set, 11 to 9 in favor of Spartanburg.

Everybody present enjoyed the game, and Spartanburg doors stand open to the Tryon tennis players whenever they choose to enter.

SUGGESTIONS.

HOW TO SELECT A RACKET AND TENNIS UNIFORM.

RACKET.

A beginner to select a good racket should consult a player who knows. Belonging to a good club will save him much anxiety and trouble on that score, and five minutes' talk with a good player will solve the difficulty. He will tell him that there are three very important points to be considered: the weight, to have the handle fit the hand, and the balance. Be careful about these; go to a good maker, and give a good price.

Many players buy extremely light-weight rackets, say from $11\frac{1}{2}$ to $12\frac{1}{2}$ ounces.

This is entirely wrong, as rackets under 13 ounces in weight are necessarily made of very light, dry stock to keep the weight down, and frequently break and fail to give satisfaction, especially when used by men; they are only fit for children and ladies of moderate strength. None of our prominent players, either ladies or gentlemen, use light-weight rackets.

Rackets from 13 to 14½ ounces can be made of tough, springy wood as the limit of weight allows, and consequently are far more durable and satisfactory to play with than extremely light weights, which have not the spring, driving powers, and durability of medium and heavy weights. In selecting a racket more attention should be paid to how it feels in the hand than to actual weight; it should balance well and swing around easily and rightly, without a tendency to be topheavy and to tire and strain the wrist, and should be of sufficient weight to ensure being made of good, springy material.

For ladies' use I would recommend from 13 to 13½, and gentlemen's 13½ to 14½ ounces. The majority of gentlemen players of note use 14 and 14½ ounce rackets. Champion Campbell uses 14½-ounce.

First-class rackets are strung up to the utmost tension. This makes them very susceptible to atmospheric changes and dampness; hence great care should be taken not to expose rackets to same by keeping them in damp places, laying them on the grass, or leaving them out-of-doors overnight. A racket, to be kept in good condition, should be placed, when not in use, in a cool, dry place, enclosed in a flannel or waterproof case.

SHOES.

Shoes with plain heavy rubber soles are most in use, and when the weather is fine and the court dry they serve every purpose; but if the courts are heavy and wet, then steel points are indispensable. Rubber soles may grip for a game or two in the wet; but as soon as they get greasy you will have a difficulty in starting, especially if you are a heavy-weight. Everything depends on a good footing and being able to start quickly. So, if you improve sufficiently to be able to play in matches or tournaments, never consider your outfit complete without a pair of shoes with steel points.

Get them made easy and comfortable everywhere, especially in the front part of the foot; and have the uppers of buckskin or flexible leather. You need not worry about elaborate toecaps or fancy sewing; no one pays you the compliment of looking at your feet, not even the ladies. And get into the habit of using them, or you will find they will grip a little too much when you want to start quickly.

FLANNELS.

Get your trowsers of the best quality, and do not trust any one but a good outfitter to make them; and be sure to tell him that you want them to play in, and not for a garden-party exhibition. Those made of serge have not the comfortable feeling of flannel, nor do they give so nicely to the movements of the body. A belt is better than a scarf to go around the waist, and a buckle and strap will also help. Never go to a match or tournament without at least two flannel suits in your bag. You may have to play a round of singles, and if you get very hot, a change is necessary before you play in the doubles that usually follow. They must be heavy enough to feel warm in, or your play will be feeble and fitful. Many a good man has been knocked out of an important contest for want of warm and comfortable flannels on a cold day. A sweater or a flannel jacket is necessary when setting out.

In glaring sunshine, a cap with a broadish peak is very useful against a good lobber.

You cannot be too particular in your attention to the small things that make up a player's outfit: for upon that depends, to a great extent, your success and enjoyment of the game.

THE GAME OF LAWN TENNIS, AND HOW TO PLAY IT.

BY

O. S. CAMPBELL, Champion of America.

It will be devoted to the Game of Lawn Tennis, and as it is written by an expert, it should be of valuable interest to players and beginners as well. The book will be written in such a style that a novice can readily become an expert by following instructions minutely.

It will contain eleven chapters, as follows:—

1. The Court.
2. The Racket.
3. The Ball.
4. Clothing, Training, and Hygiene.
5. The Single Game.
6. The Double Game.
7. Lawn Tennis as a Game for Women.
8. A Few Remarks on Tournaments and their Management.
9. A Short History of the Game.
10. Records of 1892.
11. Rules of the Game.

The publication will be fully illustrated, showing just what position should be taken with each stroke, how the Racket should be held, and others too numerous to mention.

Sent by mail upon receipt of price, 10 cents.
